Eight Million TESTAMENTS

At the international conference of the Gideons, held recently at Denver, a public presentation was made of the seven-millionth copy of the Testament being supplied to the armed services. Orders for the eight million have been placed and the Gideon Testaments are being produced at the rate of 10,000 copies a day.

REVIVAL OR CHAOS

Says Roger Babson, noted statistician: "If we coming chaos as clearly as the shepherds saw the day of Bethlehem. Only one thing will stop this coming chaos—a sweeping spiritual revival. Unless we have such an awakening of religious forces we shall have a depression that will make the last one look like a Christmas Eve program."

Looking Back

Wrote Paul V. McNutt, Chairman of the War Manpower Commission, recently:

"It is timely, now, with the certainty of victory growing clearer with each passing day, to remember in all humility, the faith and hope that sustained us in those dark, early days. In the past eighteen months we have accomplished the impossible. Our faith and hope, based on an unshakable belief in a living God, have worked the miracle—the miracle those nations who left God out of their calculations will never be able to understand."

New Discovery in Jerusalem

Once more out of Jerusalem comes a boon for humanity. Dr. Baruch Levin of the Hebrew University there has evolved a method for speeding up the production of penicillin, the wonder drug. He has produced in his laboratory in one hour an amount, which formerly required ten days to manufacture. The great drawback concerning penicillin has been the time required to produce it.

FIFTY

THOUSAND RESCUED

Since the outbreak of war about 50,000 Jewish souls have found refuge in Palestine. This is but a drop in the bucket of Israel's tears, however. In Hungary alone 800,000 Jews are trapped at the present time and in cash at the hands of the occupying Nazi forces, who threaten their annihilation. Millions already have been "liquidated" in Nazi-occupied Europe.

To Be Published in Palestine

Dr. J. L. Muenes, President of the Administrative Council of the Hebrew University at Jerusalem, has announced that the University is preparing to publish the complete Hebrew text of the Old Testament for the first time in Palestine.

He Blamed his Father

A prominent judge of New York City tells the following. As the executioner was about to place the noose around a young murderer's neck, the youth, pointing to his father huddled in a corner of the room, exclaimed: "Because you my father failed to give me any religious training, because you allowed me to grow up like a heathen, I am hanging on this gallows. This noose should be placed around your neck for you are the real criminal."

Preparation for WAR

At least one statesman sees that war is an unavoidable evil in this present sinful world. He is James Forrestal, who has taken the place of the late C. Frank Knox as Secretary of the U. S. Navy. Not long ago, in New York he said: "It seems to me that the spirit of military production we are now creating should never again be allowed to rust or fall into disuse. It should be greased and kept in tin being." He went on to declare that "whoever said that war could be completely extinguished was himself at war with history. The only chance for its extinction was the assumption that conflict was normal, not abnormal and that like most other human disasters, could only be prevented by always being ready to meet it."

"There shall be wars," Christ said, and that America needs to believe it. But America also needs to remember Provs. 21: 31, which warns us against trusting in war machinery for safety. "The horse is swept against the day of battle, but safety is of the Lord."

How Much For Missions

A church architect in New York predicts that $500,000 will be spent in church projects in the immediate postwar period—that is, in building new churches or remodeling present ones. But will as much money be spent on a postwar missionary program to get the gospel to those of other lands who need new church buildings?

SOUTH OF THE RIO GRANDE

Says Dr. John R. Mott: "The church is facing the greatest opportunity in this generation in Latin America, Asia, Africa the islands of the Pacific are blocked off or difficult to reach for military reasons. As we confront the Roman Catholic world, regardless of where it is, it presents a difficulty but at the same time an added attraction because it is 700 hard for us. We need to seek God for a day of His visitation. Combating a Rome that is strongly entrenched politically and with the press we need holy men who will exalt a living Christ as a life forevermore. Thank God we are permitted to go in the way of the Cross. As we are forced to go, God will open an effective door."

A Chaplain in Germany

Brother A. Jackson, a minister in the Elm Protestant congregation in Great Britain, is in a prison camp in Germany but has a wonderful opportunity for gospel ministry. He is the only Nonconformist chaplain in a camp accommodating 5,000 to 6,000 prisoners of war. Pray for him.

Make Sure you UNDERSTAND

Let us begin by understanding each other.

When we speak about Salvation we are not talking about Religion.

Many people suppose that Salvation and Religion are the same thing, but this is a mistake. Salvation and religion are by no means identical. You may have a great deal of Religion without having a bit of Salvation.

It is true that the Bible speaks of a Religion which is "pure and undefiled," but even undefiled is not Salvation. The Bible frequently warns against Religion as a substitute for Salvation.

The dictionary word for the word "Religion" is derived from a root meaning "to heed" or "to have care." It is the exact opposite of neglect.

It is a good thing to take heed and have a care for the things of God, but even this will avail nothing unless it leads to Salvation. Religion by itself, is death. Salvation is life.

Our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ tells us how Salvation is obtained. It is by faith in Nicodemus' words: "Ye must be born again."

There is no other way. No one gets Salvation by "doing Religion." Nor by "joining the Church." Nor by "turning over a new leaf and trying to serve God." Nor by praying. Nor by confessing his sins (The promise of 1 John 1:9 is for those already saved). Nor by sorrow for sin. Nor by asking God to forgive his sins. By none of these means can Salvation be obtained.

Salvation is obtained through a definite receiving of the Lord Jesus Christ as one's personal Saviour. The instant this is really done Salvation is an accomplished fact. This is shown by John 1:12.

"He came into His own and His own received Him not. But to them He gave the right to become the sons of God, even to them which believe on His name."

The next verse goes on to tell what happened to those who "received Him," that is, those who believe on His name. They were at once "born—of God."

Just so it is today. As many as receive the Lord Jesus Christ as their own personal Saviour, giving up all else and cleaving only to Him for Salvation, are instantly and for ever saved. His own declaration of John 5:24 stands good through all time:

"Verily, verily, I say unto you He that heareth My Word and believeth on Him that sent Me, hath everlasting life and shall not come into condemnation, but is passed from death into life."

Jews in Hungary

The following facts are reported by Jewish news agencies:

The Hungarian Government has fifty ghettos and concentration camps for Jews, where those not deported to Poland are interned. All the ghettos are near military targets.

The Budapest newspaper Ujmassa boasts that "our government has so cleverly arranged it that a thousand Jews are killed every time the Allies bomb Budapest."

Radio, planes, and other valuable property have been taken away from the Jews.

A suicide wave has swept Hungarian Jews. Intellectuals and artists led the way, desperately seeking to escape through death the humiliation and tortures of ghetto internment.

Hungarians caught aiding or befriending Jews are shipped to the ghettos, with the Jews they sought to help.

From Sinai To Calvary

A thrilling story of a Jewish youngster who was taught to hate Jesus and how he became a believer in Christ. Related by him.

We believe that every one who starts to read this story will continue to look forward for the next issue by Abraham Silverstein

This was the honest advice of this Christian woman, and I wondered then, for a moment whether she was not, after all right. Right or wrong, I concluded, it settled nothing for me and I had to have this settled. If the Jews were wrong to reject him, I ought to know it, that's all. If they were right, then all honest-minded Christians ought to know it. All I determined that I would read and study this New Testament, look up all references, look up other literature and books on the subject, and start on a crusade to enlighten the Gentiles in America, as I already found out, things were so different than in the old countries. Here you could convert the Gentiles, instead of having them reject the Jews. It would be a far nobler mission to accomplish this, than to fight them. The Christians in America were at least not so hostile as the Jews. They can read and write and think and were as the peasants in the old country who depended, entirely upon the leadership and guidance of ignorant priests.

CHAPTER 15

Sunday afternoon again, I did not look up Braunstein this time. I was to be alone to go alone to that little Mission; to be alone with the missionary and talk to him and ask him a lot of questions. I reached the little store too early. It was yet closed so I waited.

By and by the missionary Rev. Bernhard Angel his wife and two daughters arrived and they greeted me with more than mere friendliness. They were actually glad to see me. The store was unlocked and I at once asked the missionary if we could go somewhere and talk things over. There were many questions I wished to ask. He said there was no need to go anywhere we could go into the back room, which was behind the little platform on which stood the piano. At this moment Miss Bunke came in and joined us.

She gave me her usual smile a smile which I missed afterwards during the days of my work in the ghetto for which I longed all through the week and which drew me to the mission Sunday after Sunday. How I loved those smiles, the kindly condescension and the sympathy they expressed. Being among strangers alone; forsooth such smiles are always the openings of the doors of Paradise.

When we reached the back room the missionary pointed to a chair and I sat down. I was eager to begin and told him of my reading of the New Testament, and how interested I became and that there were a number of important questions I wished to ask.

At once I recognized a peculiar interest in both Mr. Angel and Miss Bunke. The latter even had moist eyes. There was an eagerness displayed, which made me think of my sister's warnings, that these missionaries were making a lot of money out of Jewish baptisms. I shuddered at the thought but could not believe that these kindly people should harbor in soul and yet, this eagerness akin to greed, was making me suspicious. Why should these strangers take such an interest in me, a stranger a boy poor ignorant and they knew that I could not possibly pay them for either their time, or the literature they were giving me entirely free of charge.

There must be something in this for them, I determined to find out.

"It is true, Mr. Angel that there two hundred dollars for a Jewish soul did not tell you all. We receive more very much more, very much more. You can see for yourself how hard it is to convince a Jew to believe in Jesus as his Saviour. Every one of the young men in this hall learned to hate Jesus and we have to make them first love Jesus and then take a lot of time and a lot of talking. Jews are the hardest people on earth to convince and if you do not believe this, just try and convince the first Jew out there in the park that Jesus is the Messiah. You may get hit once with his cane or he would throw a stone at your head or insult you. It takes sometimes years before you can convince a Jew of truth. And do you think I would do all this for only two hundred dollars?"

"Certainly not," I answered. So this man was a rich man. I looked him over. His clothes did not show it; the sleeves were a bit ragged; his shoes were not of the best quality, the clothes, his wife and his daughters were not extravagant one could see that. If he was a rich man he certainly did not look it, but then, clothes are not always indicative of a man's wealth. Miss Bunke, too did not wear very gorgeous, she was not over nourished, and wore no jewelry at all, but then I often read of wealthy people who did not care for jewels and diamonds. Rich people are known to give millions to charity but only to meet and himself always wore cheap clothes.

I looked around the room to see signs of wealth. There were none. A second-hand gas heater was in the corner of the room, the walls were not even papered but only painted over with green paint. The little rug in the center of the room was ragged and worn out, with holes worn clear through here and there. The chairs were of the cheap collapsible kind and everything had the look of oldness and mustiness and not a single solitary thing in that room or in the hall could testify otherwise.

Just the same, this man claimed to be the recipient of more than two hundred dollars for each man brought to the Christian religion.

"If I was to be baptized tomorrow how much would I receive, Mr. Angel?"

Let every man be swift to hear, slow to speak, slow to wrath.

DISCHARGE IS COMING

The Wartime Prices and Trade Board will as soon as practicable reduce and simplify its orders prohibiting and restricting manufacture of civilian products and will immediately revoke a number in the metals field, Donald Gordon, Chairman of the Board announced Monday.

Coincident with the Chairman's statement is the repeal of fourteen Administrator's orders affecting production of metal goods and forty-three orders covering standardization and simplification of production.

The Chairman made it clear that it is not possible to release all wartime controls of the Board, and that manufacture of civilian goods still depends on materials and labour available in excess of essential demand.

War production and essential civilian goods will continue to get prior claim but there should be no delay in removing regulations which might impede transition from war to peace, Mr. Gordon pointed out.

If, without unduly delaying the war effort, the supply of civilian goods can be increased, pressure on prices can be relieved. Goods returning to the market will be under 1941 service prices. New goods for which there is no base period price will sell at levels appropriate to the 1941 prices. Stable prices will assure a "healthy and orderly reconstruction of our peacetime economy", the chairman affirmed.

Mr. Gordon declared that the basic cause of inflation are still with us, that there will be keen competition for the first "trickle" of many articles which have been scarce or off the market, backed up by accumulated purchasing power.

He warned of some continued shortages, and urgency of controlled buying. The Chairman stated that it is not the responsibility of the Board to guide industry through the conversion period. Decision of what goods should be produced and their market possibilities rest with enterprise.

Board regulations were introduced to meet wartime emergencies and should not continue when the emergency passes, Mr. Gordon repeated. The Board must shoulder responsibility for clearing regulations which might prevent civilian production "taking up the slack" when war production begins to decline. The Board will maintain responsibility of seeing that production of short supply goods is adequate that distribution is fair and equitable, he said.

Re-tooling and reorganization will take time and most bottlenecks just as with Canada first converted industry to war, the Chairman stated.

He said that for the first time in any war our price level has been stabilized, pointing to the rise of 18 percent in the cost of living during this war as against the 65 percent rise in the same period of the last war. He affirmed the dangers of skyrocketing prices during the post war period and declared that a bandwagon of price control at the moment of victory would be a "gross betrayal" of our fighting forces.

The Chairman announced that the concern of the Board is to abandon subsidies when feasible, not to add to them.

Mr. Gordon referred to the period of transition as a task which may provide a greater challenge than the job of organizing for war, calling for "imagination, courage and planning of business labour, agriculture and government.

Poultry Prices in Canada

Indians from Ottawa are that the different allied governments will use all the surplus poultry of the higher grades that Canada can offer. The export price is the ceiling price in Canada at point of shipment. Current shipments are going forward in the form of frozen poultry to avoid long holding and conserve storage space. Arrangements are also being made for some of the surplus poultry to be exported as canned poultry. This is all welcome news to farmers and specialized poultry growers, who hope for a continuous and stable industry.

Thanksgiving Day

Canada Gazette carries a proclamation setting Monday, October 9, 1944 as Thanksgiving Day. "As a day of general thanksgiving to Almighty God for the blessings with which the people of Our Dominion of Canada have been favoured during this year; and We do hereby invite all Our people of Canada to observe the said day as a day of general thanksgiving.

GEM NEWS

By Our Own Correspondent
Although the roads in the colony are always rough, they have been passable, but last week was an exception. People had to stay home from their usual church going and very few dared to go visiting.

Two or three of the thrashing outfits started last week to harvest the crops.

Quite a number of young men in the E. D. district were in Brooks on the 19, to see an alternative service officer. A number of the Gem boys were there but they do not seem to be any surer of what they will do in future as they were when they went up there.

Mrs. Gatten as well as her daughter Marian from Countess were Gem visitors last week Friday.

Hold the Line

The immediate post-war period will be beset with many agricultural problems. The principal one will be the possibility of a collapse of the prices of farm products such as occurred after World War I.

Canadian farm production has increased substantially during the war years in direct response to the pleas of the Canadian and Allied governments. There have been abundant markets for farm products during the war. There is a danger, however, that these markets will contract in peacetime with the result that surpluses will accumulate in Canada.

Canadian farmers should be strong in their determination to insist that there shall be no collapse of farm prices in the post-war period similar to what occurred after the first world war.

The best way of achieving this is to strengthen farm co-operatives and farmers' associations.

Wherever possible, deliver your grain to
